

Karen Scott Browdy

Media: collage & assemblage constructions

My career in fine art has grown out of a career in graphic design, and so my art making has a strong design and composition base.

It is very satisfying for me to find beauty and historical significance in the mundane and discarded materials which comprise my “palette”. The transformation from ordinary and unnoticed to unique and noteworthy is always an exciting one for me. I love the process.

It has been a pleasure to realize that the career for which I was educated—teaching—has been a constant throughout my working life. My beginnings as a junior/senior high school teacher and my current position as an art instructor for adults have formed a very satisfying continuum. This, along with the challenging and exciting process of making art, has provided a rewarding foundation for interaction with and contributions to today’s world.